“Marketing Execution & Approval Process”

You can title the doc:

Stroolid Marketing Execution & Approval Process (VP + DMS + CEO)

1. Purpose

To give the Digital Marketing Strategist (DMS) a clear, repeatable system to plan, create, and ship content — and to give the VP of Marketing and CEO a consistent way to guide and approve work without chaos or yelling.

2. Roles

VP of Marketing – Strategy & Coaching (“What & Why”)

- Owns marketing strategy, priorities, and monthly/quarterly themes.
- Aligns campaigns with company goals (brand, pipeline, recruiting, etc.).
- Reviews performance and provides constructive feedback and coaching.
- Ensures the DMS understands expectations, standards, and priorities.

Digital Marketing Strategist (DMS) – Execution (“How & Done”)

- Translates strategy into content and deliverables. Responsible for:
 - 3 posts per week + Friday carousel summarizing the week.
 - Creative thumbnails and images to support those posts.
 - Newsletter (working with VP of Operations + Director of HR).
 - Podcast editing and creation of short clips for social once launched.

- Bi-weekly email campaigns to coincide with recent themes
- Press release drafts and digital distribution assets.
- Website content updates and starting a steady blog cadence.
- Maintains the content calendar and status board (see Section 5).
- Delivers content drafts on time for approval.

CEO/CRO – Content Approval (Copy Only)

- Reviews and approves content/copy only (no creative design) on a fixed schedule.
- Provides clear edits and comments inside Google Docs.
- Final call on messaging, voice, and any sensitive topics.

3. Approval Process (CEO/CRO)

Scope:

- Social post copy (3 weekly posts + Friday carousel copy).
- Newsletter copy (VP of operations/HR Director).
- Podcast titles, descriptions, and promo post copy.
- Bi weekly email campaigns
- PR / announcement copy.
- Blog and core website copy.

Process:

1. The DMS drafts content in Google Docs and shares it in a clearly labeled folder (e.g., Marketing > Weekly Content > Week of [Date]).

2. All content for the following week must be drafted and ready for review by Thursday EOD by CEO and CRO.
3. The CEO/CRO will review and approve (or edit) content on Thursday, or by Friday at the latest, of the prior week.
4. After review:
 - The DMS incorporates edits.
 - Items move to “Approved – Ready for Creative / Scheduling.”
 - Creative assets (thumbnails, carousels, images) are finalized and posts scheduled.

Note: CEO/CRO approval is for words, messaging, and positioning — not for visual design but may ask for changes to visual.

4. Weekly Cadence (DMS)

Core Weekly Goals:

- 3 posts + 1 carousel.
- Progress on podcast, newsletter, PR, blogs, and website updates.
- All next-week content ready for Thu/Fri review.

Suggested Weekly Flow

- Monday
 - Plan topics for the following week’s posts (aligned to strategy/theme).
 - Draft next-week copy for social posts and Friday’s carousel in Google Docs.
 - Optional (prep for weeks ahead)
- Tuesday
 - Work on long-form: blogs, website copy, or PR drafts.

- Review last week's performance and summarize key learnings.
 - Wednesday
 - Podcast (if scheduled and ready) and begin editing.
 - Identify clips for shorts.
 - Thursday
 - Finalize all next-week drafts in Google Docs.
 - Move items to "Awaiting CEO Review."
 - Friday
 - Publish current week's final post + carousel.
 - CEO reviews and edits next-week content (Thu/Fri).
 - DMS applies edits, moves items to "Approved – Ready to Schedule."
 - VP + DMS weekly sync: review what shipped, performance, and next week.

5. Newsletter Workflow

Cadence: [To be decided by VP of Operations – e.g., monthly / bi-weekly / quarterly]

Stakeholders: DMS of Marketing, VP of Operations, DMS of HR

Process:

1. DMS requests content inputs from VP Ops & HR (wins, people updates, key messages, events).
2. DMS drafts newsletter in Google Docs.
3. VP Ops + HR review and comment.
4. Newsletter draft is included in the CEO's standard Thu/Fri review window.

5. After approval, the DMS sends via email platform and logs basic performance metrics.

6. Other Workstreams (Same Approval Flow)

- Podcast:
 - DMS drafts episode titles, descriptions, and promo post copy → CEO reviews Thu/Fri → DMS publishes and promotes.
 - By weekly Email campaigns:
 - DMS drafts email based on current Strolid These
 - Press Releases:
 - If not frequent but requires the DMS to draft PR in Google Docs → CEO/CRO reviews Thu/Fri → DMS finalizes distribution and supporting posts.
 - Website & Blogs:
 - Draft pages/posts in Google Docs → CEO/CRO review Thu/Fri → DMS publishes and tracks performance.

7. Tracking & Transparency

The DMS maintains a simple board/sheet with these statuses:

- Backlog / Ideas
- Drafting
- Awaiting CEO/CRO Review (Thu/Fri)
- Approved – Ready for Creative / Scheduling
- Scheduled
- Published (with link + basic results)

This gives:

- The DMS: clarity on what to work on.
- The VP: visibility into the pipeline.
- The CEO/CRO: a clean weekly approval touchpoint.

2) Notion Board / Google Sheet Structure

You can paste this table into Notion or Sheets and use it as your content pipeline tracker.

Table Columns

Item Name	Type	Week Of	Owner	Status	Due Date	CEO Review Week	Doc Link	Channel(s)	Notes
Example: "Post – Service BDC Tip"	Social Post	2025-11-24	DMS	Drafting	2025-11-20	2025-11-17	link to Google Doc	LinkedIn / Email	Part of weekly carousel

Recommended values:

- Type:
 - Social Post
 - Carousel
 - Newsletter
 - Email campaigns
 - Podcast – Full Episode
 - Podcast – Short Clip
 - Press Release
 - Blog Post

- Website Page
- Status:
 - Backlog / Idea
 - Drafting
 - Awaiting CEO/CRO Review
 - CEO/CRO Changes Applied
 - Approved – Ready for Creative
 - Scheduled
 - Published
- Owner: usually the DMS, but could be another marketer later.

We can also add or use (Zee has a version) a separate small table for weekly posts if we want it very simple:

Week Of	Post #	Post Type	Topic / Hook	Status	Doc Link	Approved? (Y/N)
2025-1 1-24	1	Single	“Why your BDC is your real profit center”	Awaiting CEO Review	link to Google Doc
2025-1 1-24	2	Single	...	Drafting
2025-1 1-24	3	Single	...	Drafting
2025-1 1-24	C	Carouse l	Weekly recap carousel	Backlog
