

Strolid Sales & Service BDC: The Smarter Solution for Automotive Dealers

Transform your Business Development Center with a solution that combines expert human agents, advanced technology & AI, and seamless CRM integration—delivering results that traditional in-house and outsourced BDC models simply cannot match.

The BDC Challenge: Why Traditional Models Fall Short

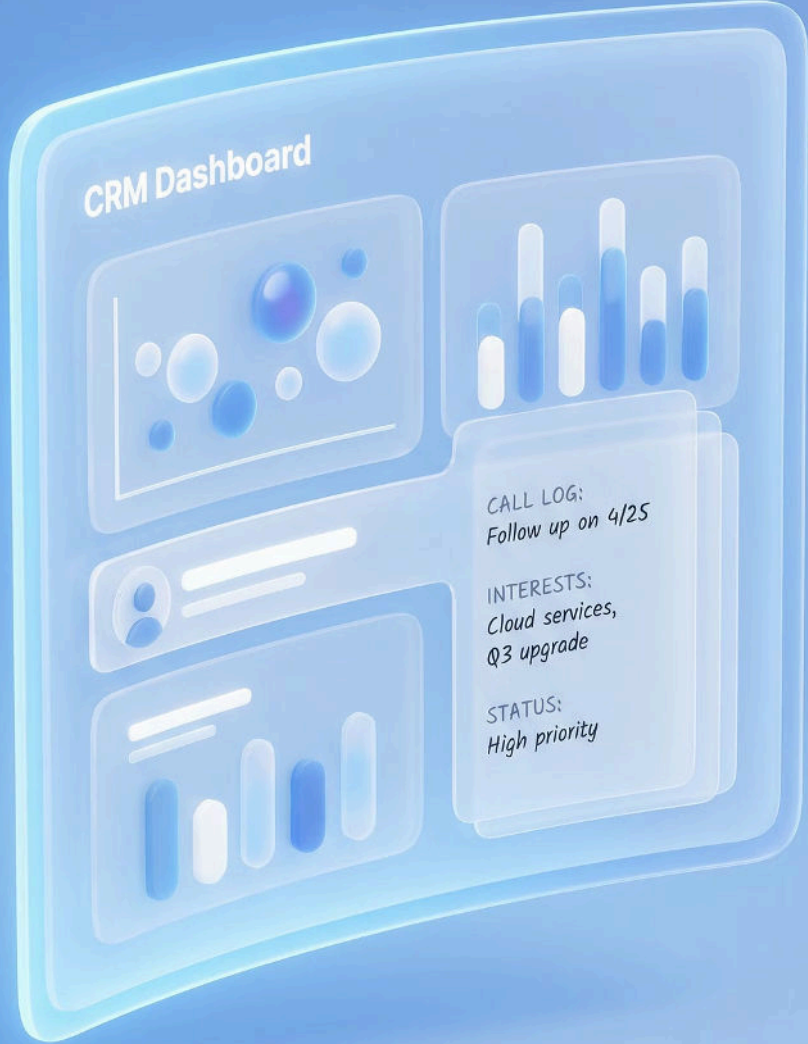

In-House BDC Struggles

- Constant hiring and recruitment costs
- High turnover and training expenses
- Inconsistent performance and quality
- Limited visibility into activities
- Scheduling gaps and missed leads

Traditional Outsourced BDC Issues

- Generic scripts lack personalization
- No real-time CRM integration
- Limited dealership knowledge
- Delayed response times
- Poor transparency into conversations

Dealers need a solution that eliminates these pain points while delivering consistent, measurable results. That's exactly what Strolid provides. A Full Service BDC that your in-house BDC can not compete with.

Complete CRM Transparency: Know Everything

Direct Note Integration

Every conversation automatically synced to your CRM with detailed notes

Total Visibility

See exactly what customers said and how agents responded

Full Accountability

Track performance metrics and conversation quality in real-time

Unlike traditional BDC solutions that leave you guessing, Strolid pushes comprehensive conversation notes directly from agent interactions into your CRM. This unprecedented transparency gives you complete visibility into the work being done and the actual customer conversations happening on your behalf. No more wondering if leads are being handled properly—you'll have proof of every interaction. Full Transparency so you never miss the customer's intentions.

Lead Capture

Never miss an opportunity

One-Click Lead Assignment

Our intelligent lead assignment system allows agents to claim leads with a single button click—eliminating delays that cost you sales. The moment a lead comes in, our agents can instantly call and text, dramatically increasing engagement rates and customer satisfaction.

Studies show that responding within five minutes increases conversion rates by 400%. With Strolid, you're guaranteed to hit that critical window every single time, personalized for each customer, around the clock.

Strolid Never Quits: End the Hiring Cycle

No More Recruiting

Stop the endless cycle of job postings, interviews, and background checks

No More Training Costs

Eliminate the time and expense of onboarding new hires every few months

No More Turnover

Our agents are career professionals who don't quit when things get tough

Consistent Performance

Same high-quality service day after day, year after year

The average BDC agent turnover rate in automotive dealerships exceeds 60% annually. That means you're constantly hiring, training, and dealing with inconsistent performance. With Strolid, you eliminate this pain point completely. Our dedicated agents are committed professionals who bring stability and consistency to your operations—something in-house teams simply cannot guarantee.

Automotive Expertise: Trained by Industry Veterans

Product Knowledge

In-depth training on vehicle features, trim levels, packages, and competitive comparisons

Auto Terminology

Fluency in industry language from APR to MSRP, lease vs. finance, and technical specifications

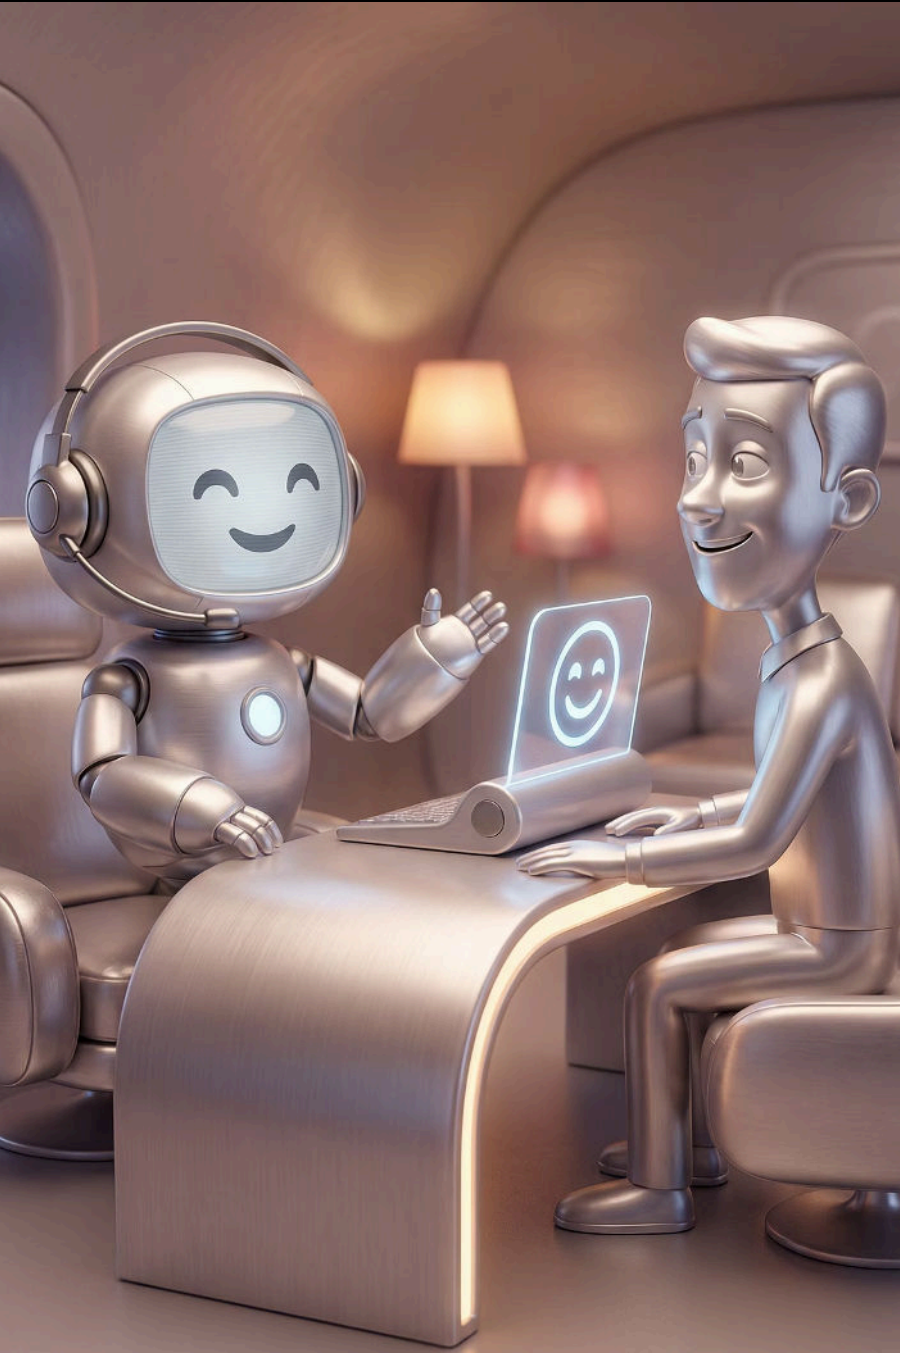

Sales & Service Skills

Proven techniques for building rapport, active listening, and consultative selling approaches

Objection Handling

Mastery of overcoming price concerns, trade-in questions, timing issues, and competitive offers

Strolid agents receive extensive training from automotive industry experts who understand the nuances of selling cars. We don't just teach scripts—we develop true automotive professionals who can navigate complex conversations and deliver the personalized experience today's customers demand.

We Hire Nice People, Not Train People to Be Nice

"Attitude and personality cannot be taught. We select agents who genuinely care about helping customers, then we give them the tools and training to excel in automotive."

Empathy First

Natural people-persons who enjoy helping others

Positive Attitude

Professionals who bring energy and enthusiasm to every interaction

Customer-Focused

Committed to delivering satisfaction in every conversation

This philosophy is our secret weapon. While competitors try to train cold callers to sound friendly, we start with genuinely warm, personable professionals. Combined with automotive expertise and our AI-powered tools, this creates an unstoppable customer experience that drives results.

Your Data, Your Advantage: Proprietary AI Intelligence

Strolid Copilot & GPT

Our AI technology is built exclusively on your dealership's domain-specific data—information that no competitor can access. This creates a powerful competitive moat around your customer interactions.

- Your inventory specifics: Real-time knowledge of what's on your lot
- Your pricing strategy: Understands your market positioning
- Your customer history: Leverages past interactions for personalization
- Your unique processes: Follows your exact workflows and preferences

This isn't generic AI that anyone can use. This is your private intelligence engine, giving your BDC capabilities that traditional solutions cannot replicate.

- ❑ Exclusive Access: Your proprietary data stays yours. Strolid's AI learns from your specific dealership information, creating custom intelligence that only benefits you—never shared with competitors.
